DUNC. GALBRAITH—London's new second baseman, formerly played with the Strathroy Royals. He's a consistent hitter and a steady fielder. Welcome to London
Dunc. In the winter months he plays hockey.

JOHNNY MEZZA—the sterling little shortstop, is playing his third consecutive season with the London Seniors. He's rated as one of the best infielders in the game.

NEARING 2,000 CONSECUTIVE GAMES

When Lou Gehrig plays his 2,000th consecutive game all baseball will pay tribute to this iron man of the diamond. When the 1937 season closed he had played in 1,965 consecutive games. Of course no one knows just how many more games he will participate in before the string is broken, but it is hoped that the number will reach at least 2,000. He is the same good natured Lou now that he was when his remarkable streak began. He has not been stopped by accident nor illness. He is not the youngster now that he was when his test of endurance began, but he is far from being an old man and still has a number of years before him in which to add links to the chain of successive games played.

IMPORTANT TRADES IN OFF SEASON OF 1937-1938

Oct. 4—Pitcher Eisenstat, declared free agent by Judge Landis, signed with Detroit.

Oct. 5—St. Louis Cardinals traded shortstop Leo Duracher to Brooklyn for third baseman Joe Stripp, outfielder John Cooney, infielder Jimmy Bucher and pitcher Roy Henshaw. In the draft the Boston Bees received infielders Robert Kahle, Indianapolis; Joe Welsh, Little Rock, and Earl Maggart, Houston; the Phillies obtained pitcher Ehrenberger, Sioux City; the White Sox took infielder Martin, Baltimore, and outfielder Rupert Thompson, San Diego; the Athletics received pitcher Ralph Buxton, Oklahoma City, and pitcher Nelson Potter, Columbus (Ohio); the St. Louis Browns acquired first baseman George McQuinn, Newark; the Cincinnati Reds received outfielder Bongiovanni, Portland; Washington took pitcher Leonard, Atlanta; Pittsburgh obtained pitcher Klinger, Sacramento; Detroit picked pitcher Selway, Fort Worth; Chicago Cubs received outfielder Asbell, Jersey City; Cleveland chose pitcher Ed. Cole, St. Paul.

Oct. 9—Bill McKechnie signed two-year contract to manage Cincinnati at $25,000 a year, replacing Charley Dressen, who signed with Nashville.

Oct. 13—St. Louis Cardinals traded outfielder John Rizzo to Pittsburgh for catcher Tom Padden and first baseman Bernard Cobb.

Oct. 14—New York Yankees released second baseman Tony Lazzeri who later signed with the Chicago Cubs as coach.

Oct. 25—Boston Bees signed Casey Stengel as manager. Nov. 5—Athletics released outfielder Jessie Hill, catcher Bill Conroy and infielder Luby to Oakland for second baseman Dario Lodigiani.

Nov. 8—Washington released outfielder Sington, Dee Miles and Howard McFarland, pitchers Lanahan and Bazner and catcher Millies to Chattanooga.

Nov. 19—St. Louis Browns released manager Jim Bottomley.

Nov. 27—St. Louis Browns signed Charles (Gabby) Street as manager.

Dec. 1—St. Louis Browns traded pitcher Hoggsett to Washington for pitcher Linke. Cincinnati acquired catcher Hershberger of Newark for first baseman Scarsella, infielder Eddie Miller and cash.

Dec. 2—Chicago White Sox traded pitcher Vernon Kennedy, outfielder Fred Walker and infielder Tony Piet to Detroit for outfielder Gerald Walker, third baseman Marvin Owen and catcher Mike Tresh. The Red Sox swapped outfielder Mills, infielders Ralph Kress and Oscar Melillo to St. Louis for outfielder Joe. Voemik. American League released umpire Johnston.

Dec. 20—Phillies get pitcher Al Smith from the Cardinals at the waiver price.

Jan. 19, 1938—Larry MacPhail signs three-year contract as executive vice-president of Brooklyn Club.

Jan. 20—St. Louis Browns bought pitcher Jim Weaver from Pittsburgh.

Feb. 3—Brooklyn signed outfielder Kiki Cuyler, released by Cincinnati.

Feb. 4—Chicago Cubs sold shortstop Linus Frey to Cincinnati.

Feb. 5—St. Louis Cardinals signed pitcher Guy Bush, released by the Bees.

Feb. 11—Cleveland gave catcher Billy Sullivan, infielder Roy Hughes and pitcher Ed. Cole to the St. Louis Browns for catcher Hemsley.

Feb. 10—Phillies signed lefthander Bill Hallahan, released by Cincinnati.

Feb. 11—Athletics signed outfielder George Haas, released by White Sox.

Feb. 15—The New York Yankees gave cash and infielder Heffner to the St. Louis Browns for shortstop Bill Knickerbocker.
