

CARDINALS BILLET FAMILY PROGRAM

ABBOTSFORD CARDINALS BASEBALL CLUB

ABBOTSFORD CARDINALS GROWTH...

As our Abbotsford Cardinals family continues to grow, our need for potential billet families who can provide a stable, safe and supportive family environment for our young student athletes is essential for our club's long term success and growth.

Host families play a critical role to the overall success of the athletes development, acting as mentors and surrogate parents. They provide room and board, including a private bedroom, nutritious meals, and emotional support.

Families typically receive a monthly stipend to offset all expenses. The monthly rate is dependent on the family's situation and may differ from billet to billet.

HIGH LEVEL OF EXCELLENCE EXPECTED...

The Cardinals strive to be at the forefront of amateur baseball in Canada, promising to provide a fun and affordable atmosphere in the Fraser Valley at local Delair park.

We expect a high level of excellence from our players and coaches, not just at the park or training facility, but also with their billet families, local schools, and community.

Our players are aware that respect for the household and host family members is mandatory.

General responsibility and consideration from both parties make the housing experience successful and build relationship that can last for many years after the player has moved on to college.

SUGGESTED GUIDELINES....

To ensure the experience is successful, the Abbotsford Cardinals are providing suggested guidelines for billet families, player families and players.

Please note that these are simply guidelines to assist in determining rules, responsibilities and expectations that the player will follow.

WHAT MAKES A GREAT BILLET FAMILY?

Establish a set of guidelines early on so the players know what is expected of them.

Find out what types of foods the player likes to eat and understand the nutritional requirements of an elite athlete.

Understand the players practice and game schedules to plan for meals. The player is responsible to communicate with plenty of notice if he will not be making a meal due to team conflict.

Respect the players privacy and need for independence.

Create an open line of communication with the player's parents.

Be a good listener if the player becomes stressed about school, family, girlfriend, homesickness, etc. Do not partake in discussions about paying time and team related issues.

Take an interest in the players' season and go to games wherever possible.

Although we understand that the above list is not inclusive of every situation, we expect that any question or situation that arises - will be communicated between the billet family, players, and coaches immediately.

The goal is to develop great baseball players, but at the same time upstanding citizens in our community.
