Series History

The Strykers hold an all-time record of 3-4 against the Blast, which includes a 1-0 record in overtime/shootout decisions. Even though the two sides were fellow MASL founding members in 2014-15, they did not face each other until the 2017-18 campaign. In last season's only meeting between Empire and Baltimore, the Strykers grabbed a dramatic victory in mid-February 2025, downing the visitors from Maryland 4-3 in overtime.

The Stakes

The Strykers look to bounce back from Friday's 6-3 away loss to the Kansas City Comets and return to winning ways, having previously recorded three straight victories. Prior to the defeat at Kansas City, Empire downed the Comets 10-6 at home, truly turning the page on a bumpy start to their campaign that at one point saw them drop five straight nailbiters. Head Coach Onua Obasi's men will be keen to defend the final playoff spot and put a buffer between them and the Baltimore Blast just below them as well as bottom-dwelling Utica City FC. Baltimore sits even on points with Empire while having played one fewer game, making Sunday's clash between the Strykers and the Blast a true six-pointer. Utica trails by five points while holding two games in hand.

With a successful outing in Baltimore, the Southern Californians would also up the pressure on a trio of teams sitting above them. While San Diego and Tacoma have each played one fewer match than Empire, with each holding a five-point advantage, St. Louis has a four-point edge and sits even in games played. The Strykers aim to make it consecutive playoff appearances following a three-year drought, having returned to the knockout rounds last season under then first-year MASL Head Coach Obasi.

The Blast has been experiencing a rollercoaster 2025-26 so far. Most recently, the squad led by Head Coach David Bascome, which has gone 1-4 in its last five, recorded back-to-back losses at Utica (4-2) and against visiting San Diego (10-5). Having comfortably punched its playoff ticket last season after previously missing out for the very first time, Baltimore advanced to the MASL semifinals, where host San Diego proved superior on the day. The Blast looks to hoist its fourth championship trophy since the inaugural campaign in 2014-15 and its tenth across different leagues in the organization's storied 33-year history.

"Confident" Strykers Hit Road for Clashes with KC, Baltimore

Rising star Díaz González: "It's a different energy"

Ontario, Calif. — Embarking on back-to-back road games this weekend, the Empire Strykers look to climb further up the standings by continuing to ride the momentum gained from three straight victories, including the recent back-to-back home wins over two Major Arena Soccer League (MASL) title contenders in rivals San Diego Sockers and the first-place Kansas City Comets.

5-6-0 (wins-losses-overtime/shootout losses) Empire first travels to Independence, Missouri, for a highly anticipated rematch with the 8-4-2 Comets on Friday at 5:05 p.m. PST, followed by Sunday's noon PST clash with the 4-5-2 Baltimore Blast.

The English live broadcasts of the Strykers' upcoming two meetings will reach U.S. and international audiences via MASL+, the MASL's YouTube channel, Victory+, SLVR, Unbeaten Network, Sportworld, APEX Sports and National Soccer Network, with several of the platforms also making the action available on demand. In Mexico, the live broadcasts of both matches will air exclusively in Spanish via the FOX Sports lineup of channels.

Empire's recent pair of victories over San Diego and Kansas City produced one of the most intriguing storylines in club history. Having managed to leave his native Cuba and make his way to the U.S., forward Walter Díaz González missed all of 2023-24 with injury and spent most of 2024-25 working his way back onto the first team. He finally made his full return this season and went on a four-game goalscoring tear and a five-game point streak, both of which are still active. Against the Sockers and the Comets, the former Cuba futsal national team ace lit the attack on fire, bagging a staggering total of five goals and one helper.

In their January 22 rivalry clash with San Diego, the Strykers earned an emphatic 9-5 home win that provided an emotional lift to a side which not long prior had lost five straight nailbiters. The cathartic victory was powered by a comprehensive team display and by breakout performances from three different Empire players. After the trio had struggled to put up points in the opening eight fixtures of 2025-26, Díaz González led the charge with three goals and one assist while Justin Stinson and Mounir Alami earned a goal and two helpers each.

Forward Abdul Mansaray did not record any points, but three blocks to his name were indicative of the Strykers' strong collective performance on defense.

Comfortably answering questions in English three and a half years after arriving stateside, Walter Díaz González opened up about the emotions he experienced when the final whistle blew.

"I felt so, so happy," he said. "My first year here playing for Empire Strykers was hard because I had this injury for too long, but I was fighting and growing. I was waiting for the moment for a long time. For me, it was very, very important to my confidence, especially playing a hard game at home. I feel like my confidence grows from that game. I'm very happy to help my team with four points, and I'm very proud of myself."

In the January 25 meeting with league-leading Kansas City, Empire prevailed 10-6 in front of 3,862 at Ontario's Toyota Arena. The victory came courtesy of an inspired second quarter, in which they outscored their opposition from the Midwest 6-0. Mansaray and Steven Chávez spearheaded the attacking outburst against the Comets, contributing two goals and an assist each. Claysson De Lima had a standout showing in net, making 11 saves and putting up a 78.6% save percentage.

Walter Díaz González continued his excellent run of form, as he bagged a brace in the match.

"Something is definitely changed," he said in reflecting on the huge win over the Comets and contrasting it with the recent losing streak. "Like I say, my confidence, grow against San Diego, and I'm pretty sure my teammates felt the same. They are more confident, too. Now, we want to play for the championship. The game with Kansas City show that we have a very, very good, team and a lot of talent. Something did click in everyone. We are in the same page, and we're fighting for each other. It's a different energy."

For the Strykers, backline anchor Robert Palmer has again been a key contributor on both defense and offense. The Jamaican not only ranks third MASL-wide in blocks (25) but also tied for ninth in assists (8) and tied for runner-up on his team in points per game (1.00 in 9 games). Second place in blocks on Empire is held by Filipe Dutra (9).

Like Palmer, netminder Brian Orozco has not only excelled at his core responsibilities. In addition to leading the league in goals-against average (3.81 in 8 games/393 mins) and save percentage (75.8%), the 24-year-old has bagged a goal and two assists for an impressive points-per-game average of 0.38.

Mounir Alami, Walter Díaz González and Steven Chávez have been the Strykers' most dangerous nominal attackers. While former Morocco youth international Alami tops his team in points (11) and jointly in goals along with Díaz González (7 each), he is tied for second in points per game (1.00 in 11 games played) with Palmer (9 games) and Chávez (10 games). Forward Díaz González leads Empire in the category (1.11 in 9 games) and ranks tied for runner-up in points with midfielders Chávez and Justin Stinson (10 each), Chávez also sitting second in assists (5). Ant Powell is tied for third in the league in power play goals (2).

Having truly turned the page on a bumpy start to their campaign, which saw them drop five straight nailbiters not long ago, Head Coach Onua Obasi's sixth-place Strykers will be keen to defend the final playoff spot and put a buffer between them and Sunday's opponent, the Baltimore Blast, just below them as well as bottom-dwelling Utica City FC. While Utica trails by five points with a game in hand, Baltimore ranks even with Empire in games played and points, making Sunday's clash between Empire and the Blast a true six-pointer.

With a successful road trip, the Southern Californians would also up the pressure on a trio of teams sitting above them in the standings. If absolutely everything were to go the Strykers' way over the weekend, they could climb past two of the three and all the way into fourth. While San Diego and Tacoma have played the same number of matches as Empire, each holding a five-point advantage, St. Louis has a four-point edge after having played one more game.

Empire aims to make it consecutive playoff appearances, having ended a three-year drought last season by returning to the knockout rounds under then first-year MASL Head Coach Obasi.

In their rematch with the Comets, Obasi's men face a side that has recorded several impressive wins this season along with its fair share of letdowns. Before its loss at Empire, Kansas City defeated host Milwaukee 7-5.

If one counts a defeat in the 2022-23 play-in round, Head Coach Stefan Stokic's team has made the playoffs five times running.

The Strykers' record in the all-time series with the Comets stands at 4-6, including a 1-1 record in shootout/overtime wins and a 1-1 record in playoff encounters. Not included in the count is a 15-minute mini game that was used to decide the 2021 MASL semifinal series, Empire prevailing 2-1 after each team had previously claimed one victory.

Even though both the Strykers (then named Ontario Fury) and Kansas City were inaugural league members in 2014-15, they did not face each other until the 2016-17 campaign. The two sides have not met this season. They squared off only once in 2024-25, with the Comets claiming a 7-5 home win on January 10 of last year.

"That's a really, really good team," offered the Strykers' Díaz González. "They've been playing so good for a long time, and they have a lot of experienced players that been in this league for a long time. Of course, we're playing to win that game, but we have to respect this team in a good way. They are hard to play always, but of course, it's going to be more difficult on the road. I never played there in Kansas, but I hear from my teammates they have good fans."

When asked how his side's approach might change based on Friday's fixture being an away game, the Cuban responded, "Nothing is going to be so different for us. Right now, we have a lot of good energy on the team, and we are positive. We keep training the same way. We work hard and we're preparing to this game in a normal way."

MASL
MAJOR ARENA SOCCER LEAGUE

When Kansas City welcomes Empire to Cable Dahmer Arena, the home side can be expected to once again boast a strong defensive collective. The club's league-wide superiority in the blocks category reflects the fact the Comets have played by far the most games but also the inconsistent way certain stats are kept around the MASL. The official count has Chad Vandegriffe (33) atop the league, with three of his teammates also making the leaderboard in Lesia Thetsane (27; 2nd), DeBray Hollimon (17; tied for 5th) and Guerrero Pino (16; 7th).

Kansas City's high-flying attack is spearheaded by the club's explosive duo up top, Zach Reget and Rian Marques. While Reget tops the league in points (27) and points per game (2.27 in 11 games), in addition to ranking tied for third in assists along with Marques (11 each) and for third in power play goals along with another teammate in Ignacio Flores (3 each), Brazilian Marques also sits first in points per game (2.27 in 11 games), third in points (25) and tied for third in goals (14). The Comets' excellent offensive supporting cast is led by Dom Francis, who is tied for sixth in goals (11).

In Sunday's meeting with the Blast, the Strykers have a chance to improve on their 3-4 record in the all-time series, which includes a 1-0 record in overtime/shootout decisions. Even though Baltimore — like Empire — is an original MASL member club, the two sides did not face off until the 2017-18 campaign. In last season's only clash between Empire and the Blast, the Strykers grabbed a dramatic victory in mid-February 2025, downing the visitors from Maryland 4-3 in overtime.

Baltimore has been experiencing a rollercoaster 2025-26 so far. Most recently, the squad led by Head Coach David Bascome, which has gone 1-4 in its last five, recorded back-to-back losses at Utica (4-2) and to the visiting Sockers (10-5).

Having comfortably punched its playoff ticket last season after previously missing out for the very first time, the Blast advanced to the MASL semifinals, where host San Diego proved superior on the day, winning 11-3. Baltimore looks to hoist its fourth championship trophy since the inaugural campaign in 2014-15 and its tenth across different leagues in the organization's storied 33-year history.

"We haven't talked about them so much, at least not yet," shared Strykers forward Walter Díaz González in looking ahead. "We're going game by game. Our minds right now [are] in Kansas City. After Kansas City, right away, we're going to talk about the Blast. I think every single team in this league is very competitive. Especially at home, Baltimore is very good. We normally play in a field that is so big. Their field is kind of small, and they've been playing there for a long time. That makes it harder for us."

The Blast features both an attacking standout who contributes significantly in the back and a defensive standout who contributes significantly on attack. While holding second place on Baltimore in blocks (10), Jonas Melo ranks fifth in the league in points (21) and seventh in points per game (1.91 in 11 games) as well as tied for fifth in assists (10) and for sixth in goals (11). Meanwhile, defender Oumar Sylla tops Baltimore in blocks (13) but also ranks first in the MASL in assists (13), eighth in points per game (1.78 in 9 games), and tied for ninth in points (16).

The Empire defense will also need to keep a close eye on forward Juan Pereira, who is fifth MASL-wide in goals (12).

Empire Win Streak Snapped in 6-3 Loss to Comets

Marques shines as KC claws back from halftime deficit

Independence, Mo. — The Empire Strykers had their three-game win streak snapped by the Kansas City Comets on Friday evening, falling 6-3 away to the Major Arena Soccer League (MASL) giants and dropping to 5-7-0 (wins-losses-draws) on their 2025-26 campaign. The fiercely contested affair at Cable Dahmer Arena, which was led 2-1 by Empire at the break, saw Kansas City earn all three points by battling back in the second half and outscoring the visitors 5-1. Comets forward Rian Marques dominated on attack, bagging three goals and one helper.

Replays showed that both assists on a pair of netters by Kansas City's Michael Lenis had been incorrectly awarded to Christian Anderaas. Lenis' goals were unassisted.

The home side opened the scoring just under a third of the way into the first quarter. Having received the ball from Guerrero Pino with his back to the goal, Marques turned to his right while expertly flicking it up to himself, followed by a clinical volley inside the far post. With just over five minutes left to go in the period, the Strykers leveled the score at 1-1, Mounir Alami's drive on a Polo Hernandez restart being tapped home at the right post by defender Filipe Dutra. The equalizer marked rookie Dutra's first ever MASL goal.

In a second period that at times resembled a chess match — with Empire controlling much of the possession and the Comets daring their opponents to break them down — the Strykers did jump out on top 23 seconds from the break. Recent signing Qudus Lawal displayed impressive skill as he took down a chipped Stinson pass off the boards in the left corner, turned toward the goal, and sent a right-footed drive underneath 'keeper Phillip Ejimadu from a tight angle.

Nearly halfway through the third quarter, Kansas City tied the game at 2-2, Michael Lenis scoring on a deflected shot from inside the penalty area. The hosts grabbed the advantage shortly thereafter, as Marques sent a brilliant pass across the face of the goal from the left. Lesia Thetsane had little trouble converting from the doorstep on the right. Empire netminder Brian Orozco nearly tied the score back up when he sprinted across the midfield stripe and rifled a right-footed bullet off the inside of the left post.

Instead of another equalizer, the Comets made it three straight tallies at the other end. In a moment of controversy, Marques' pressure on Orozco paid off, as the Strykers backstop had his attempted clearance blocked by the Kansas City forward. Brazilian Marques had little trouble heading into the open net, given Guatemalan American Orozco stayed down holding his head and claiming an illegal infraction after the initial block.

With both benches having used up their challenge flags in the first half, the play was not reviewed by the refereeing crew — and neither was the one that cut the Empire deficit down to 4-3 with 15 seconds left in the quarter. Former Comets man Tony De La Torre netted against his old club on an assist by Steven Chávez. The replay seemed to show the ball finding De La Torre by way of an unintentional touch off Chávez's right arm.

Kansas City increased its lead to two early the final period, the home side's press leading to a giveaway in midfield and a Lenis pass into the open net, as 'keeper Orozco had pushed up to join the Strykers attack. The Comets put the game out of reach inside the final six minutes, Marques calmly converting against Orozco on a shootout and rounding out the final score at 6-3.

Empire Defeats League Leaders 10-6 for Third Straight Win

Strykers trio shines as hosts ride second-quarter fireworks to victory

Ontario, Calif. — The Empire strykers rode their recent momentum to a third straight victory on Sunday evening, defeating the first-place Kansas City Comets 10-6 in front of 3,862 at Ontario's Toyota Arena. The Southern Californians improved to 5-6-0 (wins-losses-overtime/shootout losses) on their Major Arena Soccer League (MASL) campaign, courtesy of an inspired second quarter, in which they outscored their opposition from the Midwest 6-0.

Abdul Mansaray and Steven Chávez spearheaded the attacking outburst against the Comets, contributing two goals and an assist each. Claysson De Lima had a standout showing in net, making 11 saves and putting up a 78.6% save percentage.

After a fiercely contested and scoreless opening period, the home side jumped out on top early in the second, Ant Powell sending a curling effort into the upper right corner from just outside the penalty area. Justin Stinson doubled the advantage just over halfway through the quarter. On a clever Marco Fabián assist off the boards on the left, the St. Louis native took one touch before blasting the ball underneath the crossbar by way of an irresistible half-volley.

The Strykers made it 3-0 moments later, Chávez burying the rebound after Powell had his initial effort parried by netminder Phillip Ejimadu. Stinson then made it four on a gorgeous individual play inside the final third of the period. The midfielder played the ball to himself off the boards on the left and took a couple more touches before slotting it inside the far post from a difficult angle. Empire increased its lead to 5-0 less than a minute from the break, Chávez unselfishly setting up Mansaray on a textbook counterattack.

Anyone who thought they had witnessed the final tally of the half would be sorely mistaken. With less than five seconds left, Alan Perez picked up the ball on the left and saw an opportunity. The area native drove inside and put his laces through it, sending an absolute thunderbolt past the fully outstretched Ejimadu and inside the right post for a true buzzer beater. When Perez's shot crossed the line, there was exactly half of one second left on the clock.

Following intermission, the Strykers picked up where they had left off, Mansaray forcing his side's seventh early in the third quarter. The London native applied pressure by the boards on the left and managed to win the ball, followed by a determined sprint toward the goal and a powerful finish past the onrushing Ejimadu for 7-0. Kansas City finally pulled one back just over a minute later, as Letsia Thetsane scored on a helper by Ali Alomari. Defender Thetsane would later make it two straight for the Comets, burying a Christian Anderaos assist.

MASL

Crucially, the Strykers interrupted the visitors' momentum inside the closing third of the period. Captain Robert Palmer found Walter Díaz González on the left, and the former Cuba futsal international faked out a defender before firing home for 8-2. The 29-year-old Díaz González completed his brace early in the final quarter, bagging his side's ninth by converting from Polo Hernandez. Kansas City's Thetsane then put a bow on his hat trick, as he rifled a low long-range effort off the inside of the right post on a helper by Michael Lenis.

Empire reestablished its previous edge at 10-3 not long thereafter, Chávez being credited with the netter as his dangerous shot from the right was touched home by a Kansas City defender at the far post. The Comets subsequently cut their deficit back to six. Zach Reget collected the ball from Marcel Berry on the left and smashed an excellent finish inside the left upright. The Comets would make it three unanswered on another one from Reget and an additional netter by Rian Marques. Both of the two final goals came with the visitors fielding six attackers.

After Reget tallied from Marques, Brazilian Marques rounded out the final score at 10-6, bagging his own netter by converting from Ignacio Flores with just over a minute left to play.

Strykers Launch Broadcast Partnership with KVCR Public Media

Five MASL home games to air on Inland Empire PBS station, starting tonight

Ontario, Calif. — The Empire Strykers of the Major Arena Soccer League (MASL) today announced a new broadcast partnership with KVCR Public Media that will bring the highest level of professional indoor soccer in the world to viewers across the Inland Empire. The partnership, which will see five 2025-26 Strykers home games streamed on KVCR — the region's PBS television station (channel 24) — launches tonight with one of the league's most anticipated matchups, as Empire hosts two-time champion San Diego Sockers in a Southern California rivalry clash. Kickoff is scheduled for 6:35 p.m. PST.

Additional broadcasts are set for February 5 (vs. Utica), February 19 (vs. Baltimore), March 5 (vs. San Diego) and March 12 (vs. Tacoma).

The strategic collaboration reflects a shared commitment to serving the Inland Empire through accessible programming, local storytelling and community connection. By teaming up with KVCR, the Strykers will expand the club's reach while highlighting the region's growing professional sports presence on a trusted public media platform.

"Partnering with KVCR allows us to connect with fans in a meaningful and inclusive way," said Empire Strykers Managing Partner Jeff Burum. "This collaboration is about visibility, accessibility and pride in our region. We're excited to work with a local institution that shares our passion for doing good in the community, fostering a sense of pride, and bringing people together through sport."

KVCR viewers will be able to watch Empire Strykers broadcasts on Channel 24 KVCR PBS via over-the-air antenna and participating cable providers. Fans can also stream matches through KVCR on YouTube TV, Hulu + Live TV, Amazon Prime Channels, DirecTV Stream and the PBS app, ensuring broad access across platforms at home or on the go.

"PBS was created as a public-serving network, and that mission includes uplifting the people, stories and passions that define our local communities," said Connie Leyva, Executive Director of KVCR Public Media. "Soccer is a truly global sport, but its heartbeat is local — played, supported and celebrated right here in the Inland Empire. We are thrilled to partner with the Empire Strykers to bring this exciting, fast-growing sport to our viewers and to showcase the talent and energy of professional athletics in our region."

In addition to the televised broadcasts, the partnership includes a special KVCR Partner Theme Night hosted by the Strykers on Thursday, February 19, 2026, at Toyota Arena in Ontario. Empire will face the Baltimore Blast during an evening focused on community engagement, offering KVCR members and others a unique opportunity to connect with station staff, celebrate public media, and support professional sports in the Inland Empire.

More information about broadcast times, streaming options and the KVCR Theme Night can be found at www.KVCR.org/Strykers.
