Pubs & Grub

Mulligan's Pub - Eastowne's version of a neighborhood watering hole, this dive offers a dark cozy setting, no matter the time of day. Rub your shoulders with locals at the spacious rectangular bar, enjoy a game on the tube and a few cold beers. The dark paneled walls are littered with beer-related posters and sports souvenirs of all types.

Grand Rapids Brewing Company - One of Western Michigan's notable brew pubs, GRBC has been brewing beer since the 1890s, when six small breweries combined under one banner. House brews bear colorful names like Centennial Silver Foam, River City Red and Lumberjack Dark.

Flanagan's - Likely one of the few places in town where you will find Guinness Stout on tap and Jamison's Whiskey behind the counter, this Pearl Street staple brandishes the quintessential "pub look" with a menu that features staples such as smelt fries, Irish stew, corned beef and cabbage, fish and chips as well as American standard pub grub. Live music four nights a week.

Billy's Lounge - A full bar and dirt cheap drinks on a nightly basis. Although deeply rooted in the Blues, acts from all genres include local and internationally known groups that can be heard blazing from Billy's premier sound system. A fully stocked bar includes micro beers from around the country.

O'Toole's - Long time Irish pub. In true Irish style, O'Toole's is a Grand Rapids neighborhood pub to love. They claim the most delicious & outrageously topped gourmet burgers around.
